PUPS ON THE PATIO ADDS 2nd NIGHT
GRESSO's welcomes "Pups on the Patio Tuesdays"
A unique gathering to enjoy Cocktails and Dog Tails

Every Tuesday beginning July 24th, GRESSO'S, a new bar/restaurant in the Brewery District, invites dogs and their owners to mix and mingle on the outdoor patio and enjoy specially priced drinks and food from 5 p.m. to close. Water and treats will be provided for the dogs.

Currently, and for the past 2 seasons, Pups on the Patio has been held on Wednesdays in the Brewery District at Lotus on Front Street. Alisa Argust, Capital Area Humane Society Board Member says "Demand is high for a place to enjoy your dog and socialize with other dog lovers other than at a park, which necessitated the need for an additional night and venue for Pups. GRESSO's is the perfect place as it has a wonderful enclosed patio, parking in the rear of the building, good food and drinks and wonderful owners who love dogs and animals. Eric Gresak and Steve Setlick, owners of GRESSO's located at 961 South High Street in the Brewery District (just south of the intersection of Whittier St.) welcome those that share their love of dogs to enjoy themselves on the patio." GRESSO's will donate a portion of the Pups proceeds to the Capital Area Humane Society. Pups on the Patio continues at LOTUS on Wednesday nights.

Pups on the Patio participants are asked to assume responsibility for their dog, keep dogs leashed, bring only registered and vaccinated dogs (preferably spayed and neutered) and dogs that are comfortable around groups of people and other dogs.
